WE COUNT THE PEOPLE WHO COUNT—YOUR CUSTOMERS

AS A CORNERSTONE for its economic survey and forecasting services, Marketing Economics Institute maintains a comprehensive library of information on the composition and change of U.S. industrial and consumer markets. MEI's nationally recognized team of professional demographers and economists update the county, city and city part files of the library on a continuous basis.

The timeliness and accuracy of the data reflect the attention to detail at local market level made possible by MEI's exclusive system of monitoring activity in all U.S. counties, more than 2,250 cities and towns and in the 40,000 key industrial plants which annually account for 80% of value added by U.S. manufacturing. The resources of the library are made available to regular clients on a contract basis, but individual files may be purchased singly by business planners and research specialists with specific needs. Marketing Economics Institute will provide any of these county data files on IBM cards or magnetic tape or will aggregate the data to custom designed client market area format.

MARKETING ECONOMICS will be happy to discuss how its exclusive demand supply approach to sales analysis and its wide range of statistical techniques can be used to measure and forecast sales for your product lines.

Sunny Side Up.

ABC figures again prove The Dallas Morning News is the undisputed circulation leader daily and Sunday. And we've set records with the largest circulation gains in Dallas history. The only Dallas newspaper to exceed 300,000 daily circulation; and our Sunday circulation of 380,000 gives us our largest lead in 16 years.* While the other paper scrambles, we keep our sunny side – and our numbers – up. The Dallas Morning News. Rising and Shining.
